Crop Report.

Seeding of all grain crops in the province is now practically completed. A small amount of oats and barley seeding remains to be done, but the end of the month will see all crops in the ground (except green feed) which is considerably earlier than in former years.

Conditions continue to be generally satisfactory. The weather since last report has been showery, and most of the districts in the province have benefitted thereby. Precipitation for May to date has ranged from half an inch in most of the districts to nearly two inches in the Grande Prairie and Peace River territory. In the south-eastern district, there have been good local showers, but no general rains. Grass and winter rye are in need of rain but other crops are looking well. There has been no further serious damage from soil drifting or from pests. Winter wheat has come through without loss.

In the south-western district there has been some rain, and the grain crops have a good start, but dry conditions prevail generally and rain is needed over practically all of this section. Winter wheat is looking well and rye is headed out.

In the more central and northern territory precipitation has been somewhat heavier, and all crops are showing good growth. Damage from cutworms, wire worms and grasshoppers has been reported to a small extent in certain limited areas, but generally speaking there appears to be no further fear from this quarter of serious interference with the growth of the crops.

In the irrigated areas in the south the first crop of alfalfa is approaching the harvest period and is in excellent condition. Thinning of sugar beets has commenced. All irrigation operations are proceeding briskly.

Reports indicate that there has been considerable increase in grain acreage, particularly wheat, in certain localities, but the general increase throughout the province is not expected to be great.

This Wonderful Age

Recently within the short space of one week two exploration parties crossed the North Pole without mishap and in comparative comfort, thus realizing what has been the ambition of daring and adventurous men for centuries. Their achievements were rendered possible by the use of the air routes instead of by ship through the icebound waters of the Arctic seas.

Daily communication is maintained between London and Paris by airships carrying passengers and freight, the time schedules being as regular as those of the best managed railways, and a few weeks ago the trip from London to Paris was made in ninety minutes by an airplane carrying a score of passengers and several tons of express freight.

Throughout large sections of the United States mail is now transported by airplanes with the result that important letters are delivered thousands of miles away within a few hours of mailing whereas formerly days were necessary for their despatch. Regular mail services by air are now established and maintained right across the continent, and the number of such routes is increasing every year.

Within the short span of one generation the horse and buggy has been superseded by the automobile with its small, compact internal combustion gasoline engine, as a means of conveyance on our highways, and a day's journey of a few years ago is now only a matter of hours, or even minutes, and hundreds of thousands of people who never dreamed of keeping a horse and buggy now have their horseless carriages.

When the electric telegraph, the telephone, and finally the trans-Atlantic cable came into operation most people felt that the last word in rapid communication had been written, and now almost overnight has come the marvelous development of radio whereby the most remote and inaccessible places in the world can be kept in constant touch with centres of population and activity. The successful flights over the North Pole were known to the world within a few hours. No longer are ships at sea isolated between ports, and one in distress can call others to its assistance just as a sick person in a city can summon his doctor by telephone.

Photographs of scenes in connection with the great British strike were printed in New York papers the following day, transmitted across the Atlantic by radio, and even on these Western prairies these pictures were reproduced within three or four days whereas last year such pictures would not have been available here for two weeks or more.

In another way time and distance and cost of operation are being reduced in the West through the introduction of oil-electric cars on our steam railways, thereby also eliminating the smoke and other discomforts of travel.

For centuries the enormous powers in our great rivers, cataracts and falls have been pure waste because unutilized. Now this cheapest of all known sources of power is being harnessed the world over and placed at man's disposal, with the result that not in cities alone but in the rural home the benefits of electric light, power and heat are available, while all industry has entered upon a new era of expansion.

Within the memory of people still living the tallow candle has given way before the kerosene lamp, and the lamp has been replaced first by the carbon electric light and now by the cheaper, more efficient tungsten lamp. The finest lectures, the best music, the current news of the day is carried by radio into the humblest and most isolated home, and it does not require much imagination to foresee that at no distant date people everywhere will be able to witness as well as hear these far distant occurrences.

Jules Verne's flights of fancy in "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" and "Around the World in Eighty Days" are today accepted facts and almost every day happening.

Pessimists there still are who insist that the world is becoming worse and not better, that mankind is headed for destruction, that with increase of population he will not be capable of producing enough food to sustain life, that with our prodigal use of fuel these resources will become exhausted and the race will freeze to death, and so on and so forth. Such croakers there always have been, and probably always will be, but their dire predictions always fail to be realized. Man has ever been able to solve the problems confronting him. Necessity has ever been the mother of invention, and at no time in the history of the race has inventive genius been more fertile in practical ideas, nor has science been so consistently employed to achieve important and lasting results.

Predicts Bumper Crop

May Surpass Banner Years in West Says Eastern Man

Returning from a tour of the western provinces Thomas Bradshaw, vice-president and general manager of the Massey-Harris Company, prophesied that 1926 would see a western crop which would rival, if not surpass, the banner years of the past. Not since 1915, he declared, had he seen the wheat crops so well advanced, the farmers in such a flourishing condition and the general tone of the west so optimistic.

Those Who Can Afford Fad Cultivate Perpetual Smile

Whenever a Japanese gets any money ahead he buys himself a gold tooth and cultivates a perpetual smile.

This illuminating and fascinating fashion is looked upon somewhat askance by the Kobe Chronicle, which declares that a prefectural investigation revealed that local dentists last year had used gold valued at 221,226 yen for decorating the teeth of customers.

A movement is under way to start a fashion in plain white teeth.

MAJORITY OF 13 FOR GOVERNMENT ON BUDGET VOTE

Ottawa.—After over a month of debate ending in an all-night sitting, the house defeated the Conservative amendment to the budget by a majority of 13. The vote stood: Against 121, for 108.

An unusual feature of the division was that neither Premier King nor Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader, cast a vote.

Mr. Meighen was absent through illness. Mr. King was paired with Mr. Meighen.

There were no party switches. Liberals present went solidly against the amendment. Conservatives went solidly for it. Progressives, Independents and Labor voted with the government.

Announcement of the result was greeted with loud Liberal cheers.

The house then again divided on the main budget motion.

Will Explore Ungava Territory

Expedition Will Make the Trip in Three Aeroplanes

Quebec.—What is considered the most important expedition that has ever been sent out by the Provincial Government will leave Seven Islands in June next by aeroplane, for a long exploration trip in the vast territory of Ungava. The expedition will be under the direction of Henri Belanger, well known surveyor, who has several similar undertakings to his credit already, and will comprise about fifty men and be divided into three parties, with Mr. Belanger, Paul Savarda and Arlen Chalfour as the respective leaders.

The whole exploration will be accomplished in three aeroplanes. The principal aims of the expedition are the preparation of a detailed report on McLean's Fall, considered the largest falls in Canada, 800 feet in height and three-quarters of a mile wide. More than 1,000 miles will be covered by the explorers during the four months they expect to be absent.

Accepts Aid From Soviets

Money Refused By Trades' Unions Goes to British Miners

Moscow.—The Soviet news agency announces that A. J. Cook, secretary of the British Miners' Federation, "has accepted with deepest thanks" the money given by the Soviet miners to aid the strikers in the British Isles.

The news agency adds that Mr. Cook has requested that the money be transferred immediately to England "as the miners' need is very great."

Previous dispatches from Russia announced that the sum collected for the British miners in Soviet Russia amounted to about $1,000,000. The money was offered to the British Trades Union Congress during the recent general strike, but was declined.

Prison Sentence For Spies

Three Englishmen Found Guilty By French Criminal Court

Paris.—The three Englishmen who were arrested here last December on charges of espionage, have been given prison sentences in Criminal Court. The court found they had endeavored to obtain secret documents concerning French maritime and aviation stations.

At the time of their arrest, it was charged that the three men were former British officers in the intelligence service of Great Britain. The British foreign office, however, denied all knowledge of the men's activity.

India's Only Woman Ruler Abdicates Throne

British Government Granted Request For Only Son to Succeed Her

London.—India's only woman ruler, Her Highness the Begum of Bhopal, has abdicated her throne in favor of her son, Nawab Zada Hamidulla. For a long time she had contended for the Islamic right to name her successor, who under ordinary procedure should have been the son of her deceased eldest son, Nawab Nasrulla Khan. The British Government finally acceded to her desires.

The abdication of the Begum brings to an end a period of 80 years of female rule in the little state of Central India of 6,902 square miles, with a population of about 700,000. She had ruled Bhopal for a quarter of a century with vigor and statesmanship.

Although now 68 years old, she still is mentally and physically vigorous. Nevertheless, she long had wished to see her only son established as her successor before her faculties failed her.

Newab Zada Hamidulla is now 31 years old. He had been carefully trained in statesmanship under his mother's direction. He was on the staff of the Prince of Wales during the Prince's visit to India and also served in the war. He has a splendid reputation.

Having succeeded in her efforts, it is said she retires happily from the cares of the government.

Influence Will Not Help

Home Bank Depositors Will Be All Treated Alike

Ottawa.—"Influence or no influence has no bearing on this matter," said Premier W. L. M. King in the House of Commons regarding the payment of Home Bank depositors. Pete McGibbon, Conservative, Muskoka, had quoted a newspaper article which said that some depositors found it difficult to obtain the promised 35 per cent. payment because they lacked influence.

The prime minister said influence had nothing to do with it. He understood that a group of depositors had held a meeting, discussed their position and decided to come to Ottawa in the form of a deputation to make their representations to the government. When they come, said Mr. King, they would be received like any other delegation and their claim would be given every consideration.

Report Says Boy-ed Banned From States

State Department Requested His Recall to Germany During War

Berlin.—Captain Karl Boy-ed is said to have been refused a visa to enter the United States.

The passport bureau of the state department is declared to have regarded the time too short since his war activities when naval attaché of the German embassy at Washington to permit him to re-enter the country.

He was recalled by Germany at the request of the state department in 1915 because of his military and naval activities.

Storms Have Ruined French Fruit Crop

Unless Weather Improves Soon Cereals Are Also Threatened

Paris.—Fruit crops all over France have been ruined by snow, rain, hail and gales, while cereals are threatened, if the improvement promised by the weather forecaster does not materialize quickly.

Many valleys which suffered badly at the beginning of the year from floods again are menaced by rising waters, notably the Upper Marne, the Rhone and the Durance.

Meighen to Speak in Winnipeg

Neighborhoods In Balkans

Paris.—General Paraskevopoulos, the new Greek premier, wishes to practice a policy of neighborhood in the Balkans, particularly with Yugoslavia, he told the French press.

REDUCTION OF ARMAMENTS IS DIFFICULT TASK

Geneva.—Nations will fear to disarm, because other nations actually weaker but potentially stronger, can in the long run conquer them—that is the supreme stumbling block to disarmament which loomed at the opening session of the preparatory commission. France mentioned it, Belgium, overwhelmed in the Great War, emphasized it anxiously, and Premier Mussolini's spokesman even declared: "If you do not take account of every kind of potential military strength in a country, then you show a desire to weaken a weak state and strengthen a strong one."

Viscount Cecil frankly declared that Britain's responsibilities to her overseas possessions or mandated territories were the measure of possible reductions in her land forces and also probably in the number of British cruisers, but he thought that reductions could be made by agreement in the size of the cruisers and in the number of submarines.

Yet he asserted that the British people were "passionately desirous" of securing a reduction of armaments—"one of the chief causes of that high taxation which leads to unemployment."

Ban On Fortune Telling

Pastime Will Be Prohibited In Vancouver In Future

Vancouver.—While palmistry, phrenology and astrology are recognized as sciences under the Canadian criminal code, and persons practicing them are eligible to receive civic licenses, fortune telling by tea-cup "readings" and cards are illegal, and will be banned in Vancouver henceforth, states Chas. Jones, city license inspector.

The practice of giving free readings of the future in Vancouver tea shops and beauty parlors has lately achieved great popularity, said Mr. Jones, and persons permitting it to continue will be liable to cancellation of their business licenses and to police action under the criminal code.

Gather Strawberry Crop

Seattle.—British Columbia Indians can enter Washington State to help harvest a $1,500,000 Puget Sound strawberry crop, under a United States department of labor ruling. The Indians are required to register on entering and to leave within a reasonable time. The berries are ripening two or three weeks ahead this year.

Awaiting Boat To South

Members of Amundsen Expedition Housed in Cabin at Nome

Nome.—Four Arctic explorers settled down to routine life in a cabin here and continued to exchange reminiscences of their experience in flying over the top of the world.

Awaiting the arrival of a steamer the party, headed by Raold Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole and the third to reach the North Pole, are content to rest. There were indications of a long stay, as the next boat-out of Nome will be on June 15.

The dirigible Norge, the huge gas bag in which the explorers made their way through clouds, fog banks and Arctic temperatures from Spitzbergen to Teller, 75 miles from here, is being carefully packed for shipment out of Alaska by steamer when the ice-jacked harbor thaws out.

Captain Amundsen, Lincoln Ellsworth of New York, and Captain Oscar Wisting and Lieut. Oskar Omdahl, all members of the expedition, are occupying a cabin which they have christened the Explorers' Club. Here they plan to hold forth until a steamer is sighted.

Oppose Suggestion For Canadian Standard

Management of Historical Association Would Keep Union Jack

Ottawa.—The management committee of the Canadian Historical Association, in its report presented at the annual meeting of the association here, expressed "its strong disapproval of any attempt to substitute another flag for the Union Jack as the Canadian standard."

A motion to this effect was passed last fall by the British Columbia Historical Association and copies of it were sent to all other provincial historical associations.

The report of the management committee states that "so far as replies have been received, the consensus of opinion appears to be in sympathy with that of the British Columbia Historical Association."

The report adds that it does not think it advisable to take any further action.

Call U. S. "Shylock of World"

Toronto.—Hatred still existing between various European nations meant that there was danger of another war among the Europeans, Hon. James W. Gerard, former United States ambassador to Germany, declared in an address here. He also referred to the United States as "the Shylock of the world" in connection with its attitude on war debts.

Chips of the Old Block for Canada

Here are a few examples of the class of settler that is being brought over to Canada by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Of the best British stock they look the part and a finer crowd of children and young people could not be found anywhere in the world. Catch them at this age and they are complete Canadians in a few years. Take first the Nicoll family from Wicheart, Scotland, who are settling at Edmonton, father and mother, two girls and four boys. Then there is the Shivers family from Birmingham, England also two boys and girls, bound for Saskatoon. Finally there are Annie, Jeffrey and Mary, the children of F. Heald, of Fleetwood, Lancashire, also bound for Saskatoon. These are the type of immigrant that Canada is hungry for and is always glad to have. Above are shown the Nicoll family. Oval—Annie, Jeffrey and Mary.

DECLARES STRIKE WAS DISASTROUS TO LABOR CAUSE

London.—Severe criticism of the general strike was voiced by Frank Hodges, secretary of the International Miners' Federation since 1925. In a press interview he characterized the strike as "a disaster motivated by blind passion to try out a machine which, though perfect on paper, took no account of simple human nature and economic forces."

He declared that the gigantic effort of the Trades Union Congress was a mere toy in the presence of the economic facts and social forces with which it was confronted.

Mr. Hodges maintains that the miners' present fight is "a fruitless and tragic sacrifice against inexorable economic facts," and that prudent leadership would dictate that the miners should not be permitted to go further and fare worse.

Ramsay MacDonald, the leader of the parliamentary Labor group, speaking in behalf of the Labor candidate at the Hammersmith by-election, strongly attacked the government for breaking off the negotiations which would have averted the general strike.

As to whether the general strike had been successful, Mr. MacDonald said: "Was the position of the government after the strike the same as before the strike? Of course it was not. If Premier Baldwin at the end of the week before the strike had done what we asked him again and again to do, there would have been no strike at all. And he did it within two days after the calling off of the strike."

Gold Deposits Found Near Arctic Circle

Ore Bodies Were Discovered By Electrical Prospecting Methods

Stockholm.—New gold deposits, classed as fourth in the entire world, have been discovered by electrical prospecting methods developed by Hans Lundberg and Karl Sundberg, mining engineers, at Bollden in the province of Vesterbotten, not far south of the Arctic Circle.

Altogether 34 ore bodies have been located in this region, all covered by glacial drift, swamps or lakes.

One deposit was traced through the ice at the bottom of a lake 30 feet down.

Besides gold these ore bodies have been found to contain copper, silver, arsenic, sulphur and pyrites.

Germany Changes Loan Market

U. S. Has Been Superseded By Britain and Holland

Berlin.—The United States, which has long been about the only money lending market available to Germany, has been superseded by Great Britain and Holland, says a report by the Disconto Gesellschaft, one of the large Berlin banks. The report shows that Germany, since January 1, raised loans aggregating 2,650,000,000 marks ($730,965,000), of which 1,980,000,000 marks were raised abroad and 670,000,000 at home.

Red Lake Railway Bill Defeated

Ottawa.—After a few minutes discussion the railway committee of the house rejected a bill for the construction of a railway line from Quibell, Ont., on the Canadian National about 100 miles north to the new gold mining district of Red Lake. The committee's decision came on the preamble of the bill which was defeated by 24 to 13 thus rejecting the bill itself.

Train Farmer Settlers

London.—The steamer Minnedosa, which sailed for Canada, May 21, carried 30 boys who are going to Wilby Ridge training farm at Guelph, Ontario, to take a course in agriculture. The boys are going out under the Ontario Government scheme for the training of young settlers.

French-German Air Accord

Le Bourget, France.—The first commercial aeroplane coming from Germany since the recent aviation accord reached between France and Germany has arrived here. The plane carried seven passengers.

Local and General.

The Provincial Legislature dissolved last week, and the problem is now once more given the Alberta electorate as to what party or what form of government they desire.

It is not the purpose of this paper to advocate the claims, nor the platform, of any one group. Rather would it emphasise the importance of securing men as candidates whose integrity can be relied upon, men who have been uniformly successful in their career, and who offer themselves now as candidates from a conscientious desire to be of public service.

Often one hears it lamented that, in Canada, the best men do not take a sufficient part in public life. That is unquestionably the case. Somehow or other public life in this country does not attract to itself as many men of high calibre of intellect and capacity as it ought to do. We are conscious of the fact in our Dominion Parliament, in our Provincial Legislatures and in our municipal councils alike.

What then, to put the matter at its lowest, is the minimum—the irreducible minimum—of public service that anyone who, aspires to be a good citizen owes to his country? It is, surely, that he should keep a close and vigilant eye on political and municipal affairs; that he should inform himself of them in all their bearings; that he should give help to the men who seem to him to be worthy of help, and that he should oppose the men whom he thinks worthy of condemnation. That, it seems to us, is the irreducible minimum of public service: that a citizen owes to the country—and, if he pays that irreducible minimum, such payment is more important to the country and its interests than the superficially-minded world think possible.

There are few worse signs in a country than widespread apathy over public affairs; and there are few better signs than an alert and intelligent interest in such affairs. Even the irreducible minimum of which we are speaking means much. But, of course the more we are, each of us, imbued with the spirit of public duty and public service, the better—the better for our country and also for ourselves. For it is the most ennobling human motive that can guide our actions and while we shall help the country by observing it, we shall also help ourselves.

Life in itself consists of but two certain parts—the birth and the grave. Between these two points lies the whole area of human choice and human opportunity. Any man may embellish and consecrate it if he will, or he may let it lie stagnant and dead. But, if he chooses the better part, then there is nothing that can give his life a higher complexion than the resolve to do something for his country—to discharge for it some public duty or to offer to it some public service.

The U.F.A. local No. 12 held their meeting in Berscht's hall on May 28th. The meeting was well attended. It was decided to send delegates to the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. Convention at Acme as a candidate for the constituency is to be nominated.

The W.C.T.U. will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Chamberlain's on Wednesday, June 9th, at 2.30 o'clock. Subject for this meeting, "Medical Temperance," given by Mrs. Oldham. All ladies are cordially invited. Remember the day, Wednesday instead of Thursday, as usual.

A start will be made this week on taking the census of both town and country, and our readers apparently must be prepared to give an answer to questions covering almost everything above and below the earth. Bert Fisher has been appointed census-taker for twp. 31, ranges 28 and 29, W. 4, and range 1, W. 5. Harold Reiber will run the gauntlet in the town itself. It may be advisable to add that taking the census is a measure undertaken by the government purely for statistical requirements, and as the census takers are sworn to secrecy, any information can be given with the assurance that it will be closely and conscientiously guarded.

The new ground recently acquired by the Didsbury Golf Club has now been taken over, and a dozen or so of the members during the past week have been cutting down the brush in the fairways, sanding and oiling the greens, and generally getting things in shape preparatory to some very interesting competitions being commenced. The new ground, it may be recalled, was taken over owing to a portion of the former links being required for farming purposes, and the golf club will now, within a short time, have a course second to none. It is situated amid picturesque surroundings, has the advantage of being near town, and being on the main road will no doubt attract many of our residents there during the next few months.

NOTICE

On Saturday afternoon June 5th, beginning at 2 o'clock, there will be a sale of home cooking at the Didsbury Opera House, held under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. All donations and assistance will be kindly accepted.

The Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Tom Finlay's, Friday, June 11th, at 2.30. A good program is being arranged and a report of the Women's Institute Convention will be given.

The total coal production of Alberta mines during 1925 amounted to 5,883,394 tons, an increase of 679,681 tons over the preceding year. The figures were as follows: Domestic coal, 3,156,359 tons; sub-bituminous, 581,835; bituminous, 2,145,200.

A corps of young guides who will show visiting skiers the best locations, hills and runs for the sport was formed at Mont Roland, Que., in the Laurentian Mountains recently. About twenty young fellows were enrolled. For the summer a corps of guides will probably be formed to show visitors the best fishing, bathing and boating locations.

Twenty-three seconds was clipped off the Canadian record for women's indoor 220 yards swim at the Crystal Gardens, Victoria, B.C., when Marie-Chen Wenslaus, famous Hawaiian mermaid, Olympic champion and holder of 100 yard and 100 meter world records, met Audrey Griffin, well known Canadian girl swimmer of Vancouver. The time was 2.52 5-8.

The Chateau Frontenac at Quebec will have been reconstructed and the entire building of 190 rooms will have been rendered fire-proof by June 1st, according to information from head offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Montreal. The burnt part of the Chateau has been rebuilt up to the fourth floor while the steel for the roof is in process of erection.

Major F. J. Ney, executive secretary of the Canadian Council of Education, returned to Canada on board the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm after a tour of Palestine, Cyprus and Egypt where he laid foundations for the organization of the Mediterranean branch of the Overseas Education League. Lord Lloyd, High Commissioner for Egypt and Field Marshall Lord Plumer, Commissioner in Palestine, have both consented to become honorary vice-presidents of the League.

When Lord and Lady Allenby were in Vancouver recently, a group of women whose husbands and sweethearts had been cared for by Lady Allenby during the war days in Cairo, thanked the "Lady of Mercy" for her care and attention. These husbands and sweethearts are now happily settled in the sunny Okanagan Valley of British Columbia and have banded in a unique organization known as the Jaffa Gate, every member having passed through the Jaffa Gate into Jerusalem.

According to figures for 1925 the growth of interest in First Aid efficiency is attested by the fact that 1,698 men and women were successfully examined on the whole Canadian Pacific system during the year. In all, approximately 25,000 Canadian Pacific Railway employees are now holders of First Aid certificates, while a large proportion have vouchers, medallions and labels indicating that they are far above the certificate standard, sovere as that test of knowledge is.

Provincial Items.

Date of Provincial Election
Dissolution of the Legislature of Alberta was effected this week, and writs issued for a provincial election on June 28, with nomination day on June 18. There are 60 seats in the Legislature.

Start on New Railway Soon
Promise has been given of an early start on construction of the Calgary and Southwestern Railway, a line calculated to tap coal reserves in the foothills southwest of Calgary. Certain changes of route for the railway were authorized in the recent session of the legislature.

Sugar Beet Acreage
Acreage in sugar beets in the irrigated districts of southern Alberta will reach 7,000 acres this season. This is 1,000 acres more than the contracted area of last season.

Farm Young People's Week.
The annual university week for farm young people will open June 4 at the Alberta University, when young people from many parts of the province will come to the university for a week of lectures and recreation. The lectures will cover many branches of agriculture and also domestic science and nursing. An interesting new feature of the event this year is the inauguration of a scholarship for the boys and girls attending the courses. The scholarship will consist of one term's instruction free of all charges, with board and room provided, at one of the agricultural schools in the province, for the boy and girl obtaining the highest standing during the week at the university.

Weed Campaign
More than eighty municipalities were represented at the convention of weed supervisors and inspectors held at Okla the past week. Thorough discussion of the weed campaign for the summer took place, and indications are for a vigorous prosecution of the fight against the weeds. Excellent co-operation between the various municipalities and the provincial department of agriculture in the campaign was manifested at the convention, and considerable further progress is anticipated this year in clearing the province of the weed menace.

What They Say About Sweet Clover.

National Bank Review, Minn.)
Much has been written about Muscle Shoals and the project of manufacturing nitrate from the air, but in the Northwest in the meantime millions of little nitrate plants have been set to work on a similar process. An important characteristic of a legume such as sweet clover is its ability, when properly inoculated, to obtain nitrogen in part from the air. It is a cheap fertilizer and at the same time performs other valuable services. Grain planted on fields following either this legume or alfalfa will yield as much on three acres as it formerly did on four. When rightly turned under it is a valuable green manure. A Grand Forks banker says: "Turned under it is invariably followed by a good crop of small grain the succeeding year and in one or two cases under my own experience it has affected the growth of grains for two or three successive years." A Cooperstown banker writes: "We have noticed fields where this was done (plowed under green) where the benefits have been evident to the extent of from 10 to 15 bushels more wheat to the acre." From another source: "Farms whose average yield of durum wheat had been 12 to 13 bushels to the acre are now growing 25 to 30 bushels after sweet clover has been properly grown on the land. On these same farms the dockage which was running as high as 10 to 15 per cent has been reduced to 2 to 5 per cent." The protein content of wheat is also increased. A test made in North Dakota in 1924 showed the protein content of the wheat was 11.62 per cent; following summer fallow, it was 12.13 per cent, and after sweet clover, 12.14 per cent.

Not a true clover, this legume more nearly resembles alfalfa. It will grow on soil too poor for other crops, though it does not thrive on acid soils without the application of lime. Rundown farms in Kentucky and Alabama, depleted in nitrogen and humus, have been brought to a fair degree of fertility by sweet clover cultivation. It is resistant to alkali. "I have never seen any crop grow more successfully on alkali lands than sweet clover," says a soil biologist. A banker writes: "Two or three townships near this city are more or less affected with alkali. One township particularly has been so seriously affected in the past that it has been impossible to produce crops advantageously, and many venturesome farmers in last forty years have lost small fortunes trying to raise grain. We have discovered that sweet clover is a most satisfactory remedy, apparently producing as much feed and seed on this kind of soil as it does on our best land." The plant is hardy and drought-resistant, more so than alfalfa and red clover, and it grows rapidly in the spring. Where humus is lacking—the black or brown substance formed by the decay of vegetable matter—brings a new supply. Its large roots decay rapidly after the plants die (which occurs the second year of its growth), leaving a fibrous substance which fits subsequent crops. This is valuable in heavy soils as well as light, for its roots penetrate deep into the hard earth and provide needed aeration and drainage.

An Experiment That Succeeded.

Five years ago the people of Alberta, disgusted with the failure of Party Government to function to the advantage of the Province, defeated the candidates of the party machines, and experimented with a Government composed of men with no previous parliamentary experience, but actuated by a desire to serve the people's interests.

Five years have elapsed since that election. The Government formed then, goes back to the electors this month for their verdict.

The party machines are doing their utmost to defeat the only business and non-party Government the Province has ever had.

U.F.A. candidates are responsible to their constituents, not to Ottawa. They have no blessings from Mackenzie King or Meighen, no patronage to distribute, no promise to make but that of continued good Government.

The members of the U.F.A. have subscribed funds and contracted for this space in the Didsbury Pioneer and in the limited time and space available from now till election day will endeavor to broadcast the facts. Further facts will be given at U.F.A. meetings to be held in your district, at which your attendance is invited.

Britain Not Bolshevistic

One of the most remarkable, and at the same time most satisfactory, features of the great strike in Great Britain is the way in which the people kept their tempers and passions under control. With millions of men on strike, and many millions more dependent on them for support, and all feeling more or less bitter against the Government and those throughout the country opposed to the strike, it is little short of the miraculous that rioting and indulgence in excesses of all kinds was not general.

Then, too, the strike imposed discomforts, inconvenience, and in some cases even hardship on every other citizen. Had short tempers and the voicing of bitter complaints and the development of bitternesses of all kinds been the rule it would not have been surprising. It would have been expected in almost any country. But despite any and all provocation the people of Britain kept their heads, remaining, with few exceptions, calm and unruffled.

It speaks volumes for the sturdy character of the British people, and their inherent loyalty, that they have thus "played the game." Grim and determined as both sides to the dispute proved themselves to be they wage battle for a principle, and the strikers in more ways than one proved the truth of their assertion that they were not fighting Britain, but for what they conceived to be the highest and truest interests of the country. British labor in this struggle—the greatest in the history of the country—demonstrated that it is not Communistic nor Bolshevistic.

The "Reds" in Russia welcomed the British strike with unconcealed joy. For years they have been striving to convert the British worker to communism. They have desired the overthrow of the present form of government and have conspired and intrigued to bring about a Soviet republic in Britain. The Moscow "Reds" thought success was in sight and promptly offered millions of rubles to assist the British strikers. The money was just as promptly declined by the British labor leaders. British labor had an issue to fight out with the Government, but they had no desire nor intention of destroying the Government. The strike will have served at least one valuable purpose in thus proving to the world the inherent loyalty and sanity of the rank and file of British people.

Undoubtedly the British Government and the overwhelming majority of the people are in full sympathy with the desire of the strikers for the creation of the best possible working conditions, hours of labor and pay. There is no difference of opinion as to the desirability and necessity of solving the coal mining problem in the British Isles. Where the Government and the majority took issue with the strikers was in the method adopted by the latter to enforce their own views and opinions upon the country, namely, through a general strike to deprive all people of the conveniences and necessities of life and thus force them into submission.

If there is one national characteristic of the British race it is their love of freedom and fair play. They will not be forced, nor bow to dictation. And the strikers made an irreparable blunder when they sought by depriving all the people of means of transportation and other essential services to force compliance with their own wishes. It is not "fair play" to impose discomfort, loss and suffering upon innocent millions of people in order to "get at" those in authority with whom the strikers had a quarrel. This smacked too much of German military methods inflicted upon innocent Belgium in order to strike a blow at France.

Furthermore, while people generally are anxious that all necessary reforms in the coal industry shall be effected as quickly as possible, they resent and reject the assumption upon which the strike was based that it was necessary to take them by the throat and force them into submission.

Methods which may appeal in Soviet Russia are not acceptable to the liberty-loving Anglo-Saxon. This was well established in the One Big Union strike in Winnipeg a few years ago. It has again been proven on a much larger scale in the British general strike. The British workers proved their loyalty to Britain by refusing Soviet money, and by their declaration that they were engaged in a purely domestic struggle which in no way involved their national honor. But they made a mistake in adopting Soviet strong arm methods in waging their domestic battle.

The result of the struggle is to establish that the British people, including the great mass of British Union labor, are in no danger of accepting the ill-digested theories and quack remedies of Bolshevistic Russia and communistic demagogues throughout the world.

Find Large Munition Dump

Concealed Behind False Wall Escaped First Search By Dublin Police

A munition dump, one of the largest ever found, was recently discovered by Dublin detectives behind a false wall in a stable in King Street, Dublin. It contained nearly 300 live bombs, 5,000 rounds of rifle ammunition, 10,000 detonators, and two tons of high explosives, including cordite and gellignite. Many spare parts for bombs and a quantity of machinery were also found. Some of the boards of the wall were removed, revealing a secret chamber twenty feet long stocked with war material. The stable, which belongs to one of the nineteen prisoners who escaped from Mountjoy Prison about four months ago, had been searched recently by the police, who found nothing.

Making Use Of Geysers

Town in Iceland Uses Water To Heat Houses

The wonderful geysers of Reykjavik, in Iceland, are now being used to heat the town and to warm and water greenhouses and gardens.

Water from the geysers is forced through narrow pipes laid at a depth of about three feet in the soil, and the warm water favors and hastens the growth of both vegetables and fruits.

Near the largest geyser a very large greenhouse has been built, where all kinds of flowers and vegetables are being cultivated with extraordinary success. It is possible, indeed, that with the assistance of its geysers Iceland will be able to compete with the Channel Islands as a purveyor of early potatoes and flowers.

GIVE CONFIDENCE TO YOUNG MOTHERS

By Always Keeping Baby's Own Tablets in the Home

A simple and safe remedy for the common ills of babyhood and children should be kept in every home where there is either a baby or a young child. Often it is necessary to give the little one something to break up a cold, allay fever, correct sour stomach and banish the irritability that accompanies the coming of teeth.

Experienced mothers always keep Baby's Own Tablets in the home as a safeguard against the troubles that seize their little ones so suddenly and the young mother can feel reasonably safe with a box of these Tablets at hand and ready for emergencies.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative that act without griping and they are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from 'The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Poison Becoming Cheaper

Calcium Arsenate Or Arsenate Of Lime Is An Economical Insecticide

The old buggy served its day and served it well, but times have changed. The car is now the popular means of conveyance. Paris green was the old-fashioned poison for potato beetles and sundry other leaf-eating insects, but its day of economical service is fast passing. According to Professor A. V. Mitchener, entomology department, Manitoba Agricultural College, a newer and much cheaper poison for insects has made its appearance upon our markets and should be much more widely known than it is at the present time. This newer insecticide is calcium arsenate or arsenate of lime. It is much cheaper than paris green, shows up on the foliage better since it is white, and will not burn the foliage when applied either dry or in water.

The price of calcium arsenate or arsenate of lime has dropped this year and this fact should make this insecticide more popular with both growers and dealers. Wholesale houses carry it and will be pleased to quote prices to local dealers. Unless the local dealer orders now he is not likely to have any upon his shelves when it is wanted. A word in time to the local dealer may save the grower dollars.

Worms are encouraged by morbid conditions of the stomach and bowels, and so subside. Miller's Worm Powders will alter these conditions almost immediately and will sweep the worms away. Felt Like A New Person Ever Since

So Says Ontario Lady After Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mrs. E. Franksy suffered with inflammation of the bladder and found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills. Bancroft, Ont.—(Special).—"About a couple of months ago I was troubled with my kidneys and could not rest good, and my back bothered me. It gradually got worse and I decided to see a doctor. He found I had a mild touch of inflammation of the bladder, caused by my kidneys. He gave me some medicine and on my way home I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. My husband advised me to take the pills and likewise I did. After taking the first box I felt very good, but after the second box I felt like a new person. I always keep them in the house now and tell others what wonderful work they can do." This statement comes from Mrs. E. Franksy, a well-known resident of this place.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are known all over Canada as the old reliable Canadian kidney remedy. They are known by the work they have done.

A Canadian Ambassador

American Paper Thinks We Should Have a Representative in U. S.

It is years since it was arranged that Canada should have an ambassador to the United States. The Canadian Government has announced at different times that the appointment was upon the point of making. It has been asserted by friends of that government that the ambassadorship would be assigned so soon as the right Canadian could be had. Either the right Canadian is "a white blackbird" or "a shrinking violet," for there are 9,000,000 Canadians and among them there must be some man capable enough and not too modest to serve Canada at Washington.

As a matter of business alone the Dominion needs an American ambassador. Canada is too old and great, its interests too numerous and important, for the British ambassador to represent it indirectly, when Albania, Egypt and Haiti have representatives of their own in the United States. No British ambassador can handle Canada's business at Washington as advantageously to Canada as could a representative of the Ottawa government.—Chicago Journal.

The Charm of Soft Fabric

New frocks are soft and flattery with flowered materials and flares. The frock presented here is sure to take the eye of the miss and little woman. First, because of its arresting simplicity of line, and second, because of the loveliness of its material. A wide ribbon sash is tied at the low waistline, where rippling skirts joins slender bodice. The bateau neck is finished with a narrow binding of the same plain material as the flaring sleeves. No. 1254 is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 years (36 bust) requires 4 1/2 yards 36-inch figured crepe, and 3/4 yard georgette crepe; ribbon for sash 2 1/2 yards 5 inches wide. Price 20 cents.

The secret of distinctive dress lies in good taste rather than a lavish expenditure of money. Every woman should want to make her own clothes, and the home dressmaker will find the designs illustrated in our new Fashion Book to be practical and simple, yet maintaining the spirit of the mode of the moment. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Says He Felt Drunk

Most Of the Time

Brooklyn, Mr. Fred G. Marquart writes:—"I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy. I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JACOB AT BETHEL

Golden Text: I am with thee, and will keep thee whithersoever thou goest. Genesis 28:15.

Lesson: Genesis, Chapters 27, 28.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 121.

Explanations and Comments

Jacob's Dream At Bethel, verses 10-15.—Jacob was fleeing from Esau's wrath; see The Historical Background. He left Beersheba and started toward Haran. Quite by accident, as it would seem from the expression "He lighted upon a certain place," he came to the hillside near Bethel, where he had vision of God.

"God pity the boy who leaves home and does not carry with him some kind of pointing finger that shows the way to God, some memories, some imaginations that lead him to the place where God may be seen" (Ralph Connor).

Jacob needed something for a pillow and there was nothing better at hand than the stones about him. He took one of them and put it under his head as he lay down to sleep. Such a practice is common in Africa at the present time. When Bishop Taylor returned to this country he had no use for soft pillows, and more than once substituted a headrest of books.

The sun hung low in the sky as Jacob approached Bethel, and the last thing before falling asleep, he had gazed upon the rocks and stones so abundantly strewn about him, and in his dream they naturally shaped themselves into a ladder, or flight of stone steps. (In Hebrew and also in Arabic the word here translated "ladder" means also "staircase.")

"The Spirit of God always conveyed his teaching to his servants in language borrowed from their surroundings. John's records of heaven are full of reminiscences of the Aegean, which sometimes murmured around the cliffs of his prison Isle as a sea of glass bathed in fire, and at other times broke on them in yeasty foam. David's Psalms make constant reference to the wild hill-country of Judea, in which so many of them were composed" (Dr. B. F. Meyer).

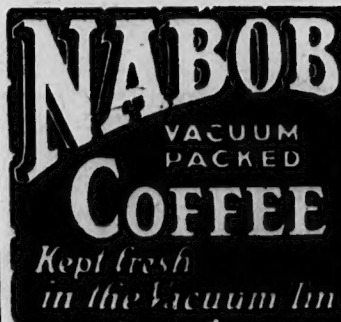

Could Hardly Live for Asthma, writes one man who after years of suffering has found complete relief through Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Now he knows how needless has been his suffering. This matchless remedy gives sure help to all afflicted with asthma. Inhaled as smoke or vapor it brings the help so long needed. Every dealer has it or can get it for you from his wholesaler.

Handshaking Is Hard Work

Prince of Wales Not Only One to be Incapacitated by Custom

The decision to abandon the White House custom of indiscriminate handshaking was bound to be made sooner or later, for it had become a menace to the health of both the president and his wife. At the first reception after the war President Harding shook 6,500 hands at the rate of 30 per minute. President Wilson wished he could get a glove with steel fingers. The wife of President Cleveland found her right hand getting larger than her left as the result of much democratic salutation, and took violin lessons to reduce the disparity. Mrs. Harrison, after the first experience, evaded the ordeal by holding a fan in one hand and a bouquet in the other. We remember how the Prince of Wales was similarly incapacitated during his visit to Canada by the too hearty grip of welcome.—London Daily Chronicle.

Briar roots, used for making smoking pipes of a popular variety, is so much in demand in America that it is necessary to import huge shipments from France to take care of the demand. As a result France in one year shipped briar root valued at $8,000,000 francs to America.

P. E. I. Man Used Them For Pains Across the Back and Found Relief. Tignish, P.E.I. — (Special). — Just why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so popular all over the Dominion is shown by the statement of Mr. J. F. Perry, a well-known resident here.

"For a couple of years I was troubled with a pain across the back. When I stooped down I had a hard time straightening myself up again. After taking a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I feel a whole lot better." That Mr. Perry's trouble came from his kidneys is evidenced by the relief he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. Joanna

"Say, you!" she said, her lips set, "you're just about the same as a new run in an old pair of stockings to me, but you're running the wrong way. We're saying goodbye now, and we'll probably never say hello again, but I'd like you to remember that you were in on the start of something today that's going to have a big finish."

He made no reply, but just looked at her, somewhat sorrowfully. She added, irrelevantly it seemed:

"And it didn't start the way you think and it won't finish the way you expect, take it from me!" Then, her flowers hugged close, she went into the house.

Mrs. Adams was a dear old soul, or a mean old termagant, according to whether you owed your room rent or not. Not that she was so much different, under the latter circumstances, but the general aspects of her seemed different. As a matter of fact, she was good for four weeks of arrears for any girl and after that, why, as many more as a girl required if she was in real hard luck and actually trying to get out of it. Joanna, herself, had once comforted a girl friend, who had mortgaged her room rent for two weeks ahead on a dress she couldn't afford with: "Never mind, dearie! The first week's the hardest. After that she'll pray for you, and I guess that won't do you any harm, either."

Mrs. Adams was breathless with curiosity when Joanna faced her in the drab room which gained its proper designation from the iron-clad rule which the landlady laid down meticulously to each new lodger: "My young ladies receives their company of the other sex in the drawing room only!" Her young ladies customarily referred to the big front room downstairs with the two spindle legged gold chairs and the three overstuffed things in faded red, as "the drawing room only." Joanna, speechless for a moment, shoved her flowers into the landlady's arms. At the same time she noticed that the old lady had taken off her apron. She'd never seen Mrs. Adams, except on Sundays, with her apron off. It gave her something easy to talk about as a starter:

"I didn't know it was you getting out of the automobile," Mrs. Adams explained. "And I wasn't taking chances. That's my rule; when an automobile comes to my house off comes my apron. I was properly raised in my young days!"

She allowed a tear or two to escape

RESTORED TO GOOD HEALTH

Mother of Eleven Children Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Her Interesting Experience

Buckingham, Quebec. "I am the mother of eleven living children, and my baby is five months old. I am only 38 years old and I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and my nerves. I knew of it from my sister, Dame Edouard Bellefeuille of Ramsayville. For five years I was in misery and was always ready to cry. Now I am so happy to have good health. My daughter, who is 18 years old, has also taken it and will be happy to recommend it to all young girls."—DAME WILLIAM PARENT, Box 414, Buckingham, Quebec.

Why suffer for years with backache, nervousness and other ailments common to women from early life to middle age, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will give you relief?

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 250,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use.

over the flowers, marvelling at the assembly of so many geraniums, also a beloved memory of girlhood, in one bunch. Then she was ready to be told about the car, and the absence from the store, and the reason for the gift of blossoms.

Joanna made her put the flowers in water, turn down the gas in the oven so that whatever was cooking there wouldn't burn, put her broom out of the hall so it wouldn't worry her, and sit down. Then she told her.

The girl began slowly, deliberately, with infinite detail, an account of the summons conveyed through "Good Morning" and her reflections while she waited in Mr. Graydon's office. Then her words hurried; she became excited; she talked fast; she got up and stood in the middle of "the drawing room only" and talked with her arms as well as her lips. She was just about to arrive at the bank, in her recital, when Mrs. Adams, who had been listening patiently, interrupted:

"Tell me; where'd you get that new coat, Joe? It's mink ain't it? And it's real mink, too, or I've lost my eyesight!"

"Sure it's real," Joanna assured her. "It's the only real thing Cohen had in his shop—it's what he's done business on all season. Cost a thousand bucks and that's what I'm coming to. When I got to the bank—"

"You say you had a thousand dollars to pay for that coat Joe?" Mrs. Adams interrupted again.

"You say you had a thousand dollars to pay for that coat, Joe?" Mrs. Adams interrupted again.

"In five hundred dollar bills! Cohen's eyes almost exploded. And I've got some more in my handbag, and one of them for you, but never mind the coat till I get out of the bank, will you?"

Carefully with constant repetition, and with infinite detail, Joanna completed her story. When she had finished she was flushed, excited, crying again. She'd rubbed her lips with the back of her hand so much, in her nervousness, that the scarlet was blotchy, and the tears had played havoc with her eye lashes. She sank down in a chair and finished with a pose that she instantly recognized as a good one, and one she'd remember for some future occasion—arms stretched down beside her and palms turned out with fingers spread.

"Now that's my story for you to stick to and what do you know about it?"

Mrs. Adams didn't know what to know about it. When Joanna came to the million dollars the landlady patted her hair and tucked in a grey wisp that hung down behind; but when the girl came to the end she was silent, motionless, and she kept her hands folded in her lap.

Joanna went over and kissed her on the top of her head, lightly. She didn't respond to that, which Joanna understood. It was a lot of news that had been thrown at her.

"Now I'm going upstairs and try to cry," said Joanna, gathering her new coat on her arms and giving the bundle that held her old one a kick into a corner where she could salvage it later. "And if I can't cry I'm going to laugh. If I can't do that either I'll try standing on my head and see if I can figure things out that way." She didn't notice a sad little shake of the head which the landlady sent her way.

She turned to the door, but stopped, and opened her bag. She selected the crispest of the five hundred dollar notes, went over to the grey-haired Mrs. Adams, showed her the size of it, and then crumpled it in the old lady's toll worn fingers. Mrs. Adams, with wet, troubled eyes, looked into the girl's face, and would have said something, but Joanna stopped her by putting a hand over her mouth.

"Just keep the lid on the 'don't want to take it' stuff," she said. "I know you couldn't think of accepting it, and it isn't coming to you, and I only owe you for two weeks—but I've got to give something to somebody, haven't I?"

She was going out the door when she stopped again, and turned around. Mrs. Adams still was looking at her dully. She struck a pose that, she concluded, was particularly appropriate for the framing of a doorway—body leaning against one side of the door frame, hand stretched across to the other, and her chin turned across a shoulder into the room:

"There's one thing you can do, Mrs. Landlady-mine," she said. "You can hold in the news till I get ready to spread it, and you can keep your other flappers out of 'the drawing room only' for tonight, because my John's coming around on his regular date and when he gets here I'll need the whole darn room for a lot of heavy stuff."

Miller's Worm Powders not only make the infantile system untenable for worms, but by their action on the stomach, liver and bowels they correct such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness and other internal disorders that the worms create. Children thrive upon them and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will show improvement as soon as the treatment begins.

Still Enjoying Life at 84

Thanks To That Wonderful Remedy

Mrs. F. H. Miller, 1843-11th Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"Five years ago my husband suffered terribly with severe attacks of palpitation of the heart and smothering spells, and two doctors stated that he could not possibly live six months."

A friend recommended Milburn's H. and N. Pills, with the result that my husband is still enjoying life at the age of 84 years.

He has improved so wonderfully that he can now climb the stairs without having those awful pains in his heart."

May Restore Ancient Legend

Facts That Would Almost Prove Moon Has Effect On Plants

The old belief, always scoffed at by scientists, which led some farmers, religiously, to plant their crops in certain phases of the moon, may yet receive some support. Some time ago scientists began to discover that certain living creatures, notably some kinds of seaweed and some species of ocean dwelling worms, possessed a distinct lunar periodicity. They fruited or bred or came to the surface or did other quite definite things in exact correspondence with the phases of the moon. It seemed almost as though they had an almanac. Now there has come to light another fact that seems likely to explain this one.

It has been found that the kind of light called polarized light is more effective in certain of the chemical processes of life than is ordinary light. Moonlight is partly polarized. It is composed in part of this same kind of light which scientists now find peculiar in its actions on living matter. Possibly moonlight really does have a different effect on plants and animals than does sunlight decreased to the same intensity. This would explain the apparent moon knowledge of the sea worms and the sea weeds. It would restore another ancient legend of mankind to an honored place among the truths of observation.

Has Unique Privilege

One Englishman Can Keep Hat On in King's Presence

To Michael Constantine de Courcy, Baron Kingsale, belongs the unique privilege of being the only man in the United Kingdom who may, if he so elects, keep on his hat in the presence of the King of England. A hereditary prerogative granted to Sir John de Courcy in the reign of King John, for conquering Ulster, is the reason the peer enjoys this curious privilege. Historical records show the permission to have been exercised only five times, the last instance being in 1853, when John de Courcy, successor to Gerald, Lord Kingsale, stood with his head covered in the presence of Queen Victoria.

Little Helps For This Week

Verily I say unto you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.—Mark x, 15.

Do like a child, and lean and rest Upon thy Father's arm; Pour out thy troubles on His breast, And thou shalt know no harm. Then shalt thou by His hand be brought By ways which now thou knowest not, Up through a well-fought fight, To heavenly peace and light.

—Paul Gerhardt.

O Father, who are in all perfect beyond the longing of Thy children—and we are all and altogether Thine—Thou wilt make us pure and loving and free. We shall stand fearless in Thy presence, because perfect in Thy love. Oh! let the heart of a child be given to us, that we may arise from the grave of our dead selves, and die no more, but see face to face the God of the living.—George MacDonald.

Find Roman Ruins In Sussex Village

Archeologist Assisted In Excavations By College Students

Students from Oxford and Cambridge passed their spring vacation in assisting S. E. Winholt, the archeologist, in his excavations near Pulborough in Sussex. It has now been definitely established that the site of the explorations saw some 2,000 years ago a road connecting the early Roman road of State Street with the main road to London. Masses of archaic pottery have been brought to light, probably belonging to the first century A.D., and iron finger rings and funeral urns have also been discovered. A pre-Roman beehive, quern and a number of flint instruments have also been discovered.

Objects To Parole System

Prisoner's Temporary Good Behavior Does Not Warrant Freedom

Any bad man is likely to be good while he is locked up in prison. That he behaves while locked up is no reason why he should be pardoned or paroled. It needs something more than temporary good behavior to warrant the freedom of a man who has been confined by order of a judge and jury. There is some expiating to be done.—Los Angeles Times.

THOUSANDS OF THANKFUL MOTHERS

Strongly Recommend Baby's Own Tablets to Their Friends

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N.S., who writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children, and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother of young children to keep a box of the Tablets in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Among the good that die young in this hard-boiled age is good manners.

It is estimated that over 3,000,000 bicycles are used in Japan.

The year 1925 was the biggest in point of business transacted, that the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York ever experienced. The figures at the end of the year showed, as follows:—

New Insurance paid for during 1925$487,326,227
Total insurance in force at end of 1925.....$3,255,615,753
Death claims paid during the year$32,133,965
Endowments and Annuities paid during the year

.....$9,166,562

Dividends paid to policy holders 1925.....$36,533,999

These statistics of the big business done by the Company indicate some of the remarkable results attained. The Dividends actually paid to policy holders exceeded the Death Claims by $4,400,034. Consequently, DIVIDENDS ARE A BIG ITEM in the consideration of a Life Insurance policy contract. The Mutual system helps to make these big dividends possible. You should know about it.

ther notice, the choir practice will be on Friday evening instead of Thursday as formerly. Please note and don't forget.

The Cradle Roll promotion exercises in last Sunday morning services proved to be a new point of interest and importance to many. Quite a number of parents afterwards volunteered their expression of appreciation of it, intending also that heretofore the real purpose and full value of the Cradle Roll work has not been so well and favorably known as it should be. Its religious educational value to both mother and babe is inestimable. Thirteen babies, three summers old were promoted to the Beginners Department of the Sunday School and were presented with suitable certificates.

A children's Day program will be given at Westcott next Sunday evening at 7.45 o'clock and in the evening of the following Sunday here in Didsbury. Live program committees are at work in co-operation with the choir in both places.

While this is being written (Tuesday p.m.) a pecking rain long looked for, is coming down, not only in "merely drops" but a real soaking shower—a veritable God-send to the Didsbury people and surrounding neighbors. "It's a real money maker for us" some one said, sitting by the writer's side. "Yes" and we trust it will also induce many to give an extra thank offering to the good Lord for it. Why not plan to do so on Children's Day, thus helping to swell the offering which will be for foreign missions.

Note and comment.—The inspiration for better living must come from some other sources than self. Go to church next Sunday.

You need Christ just as much on the avenue of life as in the alley.

When a man starts to sing his own praises it is pretty sure to be a solo.

KNOX UNITED CHURCH

There are four ways to know the Bible, said Mr. Hayes last Sunday evening. Most people just know the Book by favorite passages, such as the 23rd Psalm, the sermon on the Mount, etc. To know the books of the Bible is to have a wider knowledge. Then there are the characters that have deep interest attached to them. But the tracing of ideas from their origin to the fully developed thought as spoken by Jesus furnishes most profitable of all study.

Sunday June 6th is to be Thanksgiving Sunday throughout the United Church of Canada. The United Church will have passed the first milestone on June 10th and it is in recognition of the blessing received during the past twelve months that a day of prayer and thanksgiving has been set aside. It is fitting that all those connected in any way with the United Church should be present at the Services.

Mr. Hayes is talking for his subject "The exploits of the faith" and will give briefly the story of some of the heroes of the faith.

ST. CYPRIAN'S CHURCH
(Church of England)

Services will be held in the above church on the second and fourth Sunday in each month at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. respectively.
